Q:IF2. Last month, six Republican and six Democratic U.S. senators co-sponsored a bill supported by U.S. military veterans that would require Afghans evacuated by the U.S. military to undergo additional vetting and then allow them to apply for permanent legal status and eventual citizenship. Knowing this, do you support or oppose Democrats and Republicans coming together to offer permanent residence and citizenship to Afghans evacuated because they faced Taliban persecution for their service to the U.S. military or for other reasons?
